Life on the Vine...

Her enthusiasm for Bible teaching is evident in the classroom and in her students' accomplishments.

MARY FAITH PHILLIPS--28 years of faithful ministry to Columbia Bible College.

Mary Faith's practical and forthright example to all of us has been tremendous.

Mary Faith has been a diligent, committed, and tireless example to many.

Always ready to listen to students has been her trademark since her days as Associate Director of the Christian Service Department at CBC from 1973-1979.

"The Bible is the Word of God!" Mary Faith Phillips believes and teaches her faith!

What do her colleagues say?

Mary Faith has set the standard for love, energy, enthusiasm, commitment, godliness and excellence. She has multiplied her passions in a generation of students who know God's word and communicate it clearly. A precious friend and co-worker. I'll miss her.

Johnny Miller, President

The words focused, professional and boundless energy remind me of Mary Faith. She enjoys the respect of colleagues and the love & admiration of her Bible teachers. Through these, her ministry will continue for years to come. Congratulations Mary Faith!

Bryan Beyer, CBC Dean

Mary Faith is a woman who constantly pushes herself in all her roles. Her students love her and respect her. Everyone who knows her tastes the "sweet aroma of Christ." Her concern for those she meets is truly genuine. Mary Faith... my teacher, my mentor, my friend.

Anita Cooper, Colleague

Miss Phillips dedicates herself to her students. She models faith, dedication, perseverance, and purpose. She prepared us to be people of God first, then teachers of the word of God, a skill that will be with us forever. Thank you Mary Faith for touching our lives!

Crystal Phipps, Student

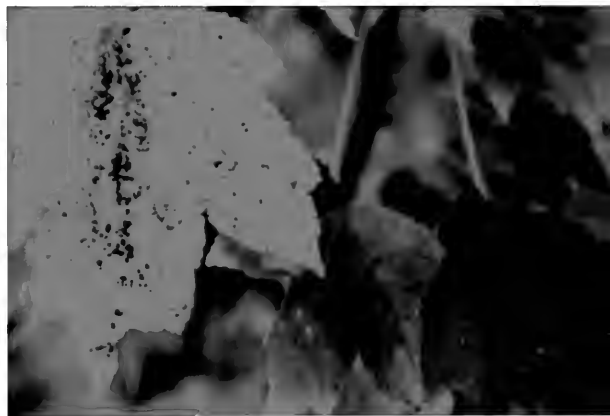

“I am the vine, you are the branches; he who abides in Me, and I in him, he bears much fruit; for apart from Me you can do nothing.” (John 15:5 NASB)

Life on the Vine...

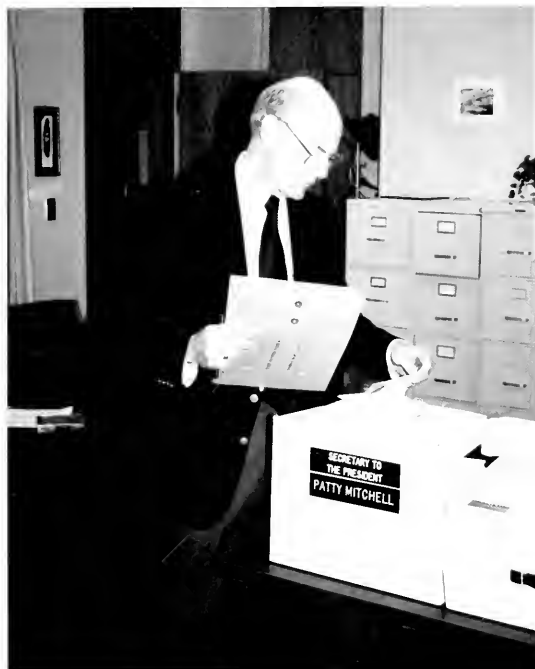

Johnny V. Miller

President of CIU

"This is the victory that overcomes the world, even our faith." 1 John 5:4b

Dear Graduates of 1997,

I wish that I could guarantee that each of you graduating this year would be an over-comer. I want you to be victorious in your Christian lives.

What would victory mean for you? Consistency in ministry. Faithfulness in marriage. Growing oneness with God. Service to Christ's church. A heart (and hands) for the world. Loving humility in relationships.

And where would it lead? Problems--Satan shoots only at moving targets. Stress, as you balance priorities and try to do it all at once. Regular pain, which comes from caring. And fruitfulness. And undergirding joy, the blessing of God along the way.

But I can't guarantee anything. Only God can, working through your sincere reliance upon Him and obedience to Him. 1 John 5:4b is possible. May God see us all through to the end for His glory.

In His grace,

Johnny V. Miller

Student Life

These two Master of Arts in Teaching students spend lots of time in the library trying to meet the demands of their rigorous programs. (Laura Addington and Alli Lai)

Chang Kuo Chung and Yoshimi Ikeda discuss their classwork in Ridderhof.

Many students enjoy some of the warmer days on the beautiful CIU campus by sitting outside and talking with friends.

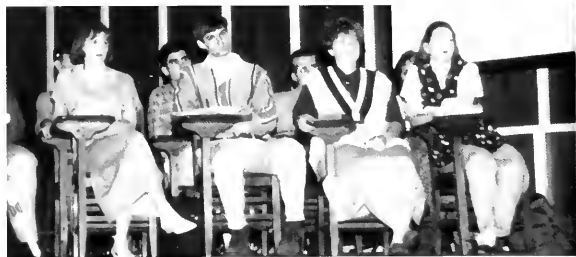

Joel Blackburn, Travis Harvey, John Osborne, Mike Galdamez, Faith Devenney, and April Rollins, all Bible teachers, enjoy spending time with their little stone friend.

Attending school is a lot of hard work; sometimes you just need to rest.

Chapels

The Bible teachers listen intently during their chapel.

John Mautz, Sandy Taylor and Liz Oates worship God in chapel.

Dick Corley, our Missionary in Residence, passionately teaches about missions.

Johnny Miller and Larry Shackley sing praises to God.

Jennifer Berry and Shannon Odell minister in chapel by singing a duet.

Larry Shackley and Tom Campbell inform us in their British accents about the Humanities Study Tour.

Dan DeLozier, Director of the Communication Program, speaking in chapel.

The Praise Team leads the CIU body in worship.

Bryan Beyer reacts to the audience's response in chapel.

Carol Larson, Doreen Corley, and Cherié Rempel display the life of Muslim women.

Studying

Dallas Vogel spends time in the CIU computer lab to type a paper.

This student is trying very hard to read between the lines.

The photography class was a new addition for CBC undergrads to take this fall.
These students are reviewing some of the shots they took.

Study groups are very beneficial to many students, but be careful not to have too much fun!!!

Some students would rather study on their own for their most challenging exams.

Studying

J. I. Thayer demonstrates the best way to relax while you study.

Sarah Stansell, Rachelle Lacey and Ashley Crowe seem to be having a blast! I hope they aren't being too loud in the library.

Faith Devenney and Sabine Brueckner gang up on the library shelves.

Kevin Hardy and Charlie Conley strike the ever-popular "hey, we're sleeping in the library!" pose, much to the amusement of Dominique Hernke.

Kristie Kovach is skilled in all the disciplines of a student at CIU. She will be graduating this May.

A Day in the Life of CIU

A pictorial glimpse of one ordinary day in the life of Columbia International University. This 24-hour day, Friday, December 13, was photographed by the COM 3410 class.

Go to Go

Dr. Layman and Mr. Germann discussing how they ended up in this contest for the GO committee.

If this is what happens when CIU students love you, imagine what happens when they dislike you! (Jack Layman, Ed Germann, and Bryan Beyer)

"So was the humble pie good, Dr. Layman?"

Jamie Bowers proves that Dr. Layman is a "well-loved" professor at CIU.

Is this a bad dream, or could there actually be a reason for someone to dress like this? (Thomas King, Craig Tuggy, Chris Tuggy, Dwight Ludington, Jonathan Reibsam, Jon Farra)

David Balk introduces the final contestants in the GO conference fundraising project.

Kelly Sykes registers for the GO conference, as Michelle Straver and Chad White man the registration table.

Go to Go

I hope you like chocolate cream, Mr. Germann!

David Balk and Janet Thomson, serving as the emcees for the event fundraiser, make an announcement for the GO conference and Urbana.

This is supposed to be a study group, but not much studying is going on here!

Shelby Moon entertains Kirsten Bremer and Leigh Anne Perfect between classes.

Michelle Hess really wishes that Ed Jones would quit teasing her.

"Fer" Chadwick and Michelle Strayer are really excited about eating in the cafeteria.

Mike Galdamez tries to explain some homework to Kevin Cunnup.

Socializing

Joel Blackburn relaxes as he talks to Jen Berry on the phone.

Why are the cafeteria lines so long?

Mike Matheson and Taylor Wagen serenade a table full of Founder's 3 women, proving that M3 guys know how to treat their sister hall.

Grad LIFE

Grad LIFE is the term used to describe the council of graduate students selected by their peers to promote edification among the graduate student body. Edification is defined by the constitution of Grad LIFE as the "development of spiritual and social unity." We as a council do this by:

1. Serving as liaisons between faculty/staff administration and students so as to effectively represent student concerns and interests.
2. Organizing and executing regular social interaction activities for student/family involvement.
3. Serving as models and facilitators for spiritual growth of the student body.
4. Insuring the smooth transition in student leadership as responsibilities are transferred to the following year's Council and assisting them in understanding their responsibilities, and
5. Assisting in the adjustment and incorporation of new students as active participants of student body life.

Columbia International University is committed to spiritual, intellectual and ministry development. Each of these disciplines makes time demands on the student. What Grad LIFE attempts to do is to constantly call the graduate students to think about balance in their lives and truly understand that ministry is people, loving one another for Jesus Christ. Through social events, chapels and newsletters we attempt to fulfill the mandate for the Grad LIFE Council.

Joe Mayden

Grad LIFE Council searches for a motto for the 1996-1997 school year.

Grad LIFE activities are planned not only for students but also include CIU faculty members as well. (Joel Williams family)

The Culture of the Grad School

The natives are friendly.

Isn't it funny how family group parents begin to look alike after a while?

A weary, but happy, student and father: Larry Nanna with daughter Lauryn.

If I had to choose one consistent factor of the graduate school, I would have to choose its diversity. Although united by tired eyes and hectic schedules, there is an amazing variety among the few hundred students who occupy the graduate building on the hill.

Take a look. You can find students who have plunged straight into seminary from college as well as those who have spent years in their career, but have now dramatically stepped out in faithful response to God's call to ministry. You can find fathers, wives, artists, accountants, and engineers. Need guidance on life after CIU? There are plenty of students in the seminary who have already been out there in the ministry, both overseas and in the States.

And the countries that are represented! I won't even venture to guess just how many different languages one could find among the graduate students. If you happened to know all of these students and could convince them all to cook for you, you could take an in-depth tour of the world's cuisine.

All of these people are preparing for a variety of ministries. Some plan to work here in the United States; others yearn for exotic lands. There are those who are preparing to teach children, while others plan to teach youth or adults. Some hope to find secular jobs where they can reach the lost and serve God. You can find people training to teach the Bible, to teach English, and even to teach Muslims.

So, what does all this diversity add up to? A beautiful picture of the unity among all the people who make up the family of God. United by a heart for God. United by a desire to serve God wherever He leads. United by the bonds formed between those who are all part of the body of Christ.

Laura Addington deeply contemplates her philosophy book.

Ah, studies. The semester trods past, and you plod along with it. Sometimes you feel as if you are barely keeping up, but you are sustained by the knowledge that somehow in the weeks ahead, the time you need to finish has to exist. Then suddenly you are eyeball to eyeball with finals week. Tests! Papers! Projects! These keep you up at night and tie you to the library during the day. You cry in frustration. You take a study break and catch yourself reverting to your childhood to stay sane. Coffee becomes your best friend and you can't remember when you last sat down to really enjoy a meal. But by some heavenly means, you get through, and you've even learned along the way. Will things ever slow down? Our profs tell us that things out there can be just as hectic. We pray they are wrong and press onward.

Sometimes the library--sometimes a cage, sometimes a sanctuary...

GRADS ARE PEOPLE TOO!!

Although they are often labelled "grad geeks" by the undergraduate portion of CIU student body, grads demonstrate that there really is more than books and papers to their life.

When not being used for studies, Greek flash cards work well as accessories.

Glen Baker gives his all for the men's soccer team.

Lori Christiansen finds time in her busy schedule for phone calls.

Tara Luther, Aaron Soby, and Kat MacCullough enjoying a time of singing.

Sabine Brueckner and Tina Winchester worship during chapel.

Off-campus grads can often be found socializing around the tables in the student center.

Chip Moses gives us his softer side.

Many people believe that TEFL stands for "Teaching English as a Foreign Language", but we in the TEFL program like to think of it as an opportunity to "Travel to Every Foreign Land" - especially those lands that are closed to missionaries, but open to ESL teachers. Some people have also suggested that TEFL stands for "Tentmaking Evangelism For Loonies". Any way you look at it, the world of TEFL is definitely a "Totally Electrifying and Fascinating Life"!!!

Susan Taylor and Young Joo Choi make a new friend.

The TEFL students deepened their bonds on a retreat in the fall to North Carolina.

Be Thou My Vision

Be Thou my Vision, O Lord of my heart,
Nought be all else to me save that Thou art—
Thou my best thought, by day or by night,
Waking or sleeping, Thy presence, my light.

Be Thou my Wisdom, and Thou my true
Word;
I ever with Thee and Thou with me, Lord;
Thou my great Father and I Thy true son;
Thou in me dwelling, and I with Thee one.

Riches I heed not, nor man's empty praise,
Thou mine inheritance, now and always:
Thou and Thou only, first in my heart,
High King of heaven, my Treasure Thou
art.

High King of heaven, my victory won,
May I reach heaven's joys, O bright heaven's Sun!
Heart of my own heart, whatever befall,
Still be my Vision, O Ruler of all.

O For A Thousand Tongues to Sing.

O For a thousand tongues to sing my great Redeemer's praise,
The glories of my God and King, the triumphs of His grace.

Jesus! The name that charms our fears, that bids our sorrows cease, tis music on the sinner's ears, 'tis life and health and peace.

He breads the power of canceled sin, he sets the prisoner free;
his blood can make the foulest clean, his blood availed for me.

He speaks, and listening to his voice, new life the dead receive;
the mournful, broken hearts rejoice; the humble poor believe.

My gracious Master and my God, assist me to proclaim, to spread through all the earth abroad the honors of thy Name.

Getting Ready for Welcome Week

There are a lot of menial tasks that the Welcome Week support staff performs in order for everything to go as planned.

Chris Johnson contemplates how to tie-die shirts for his family group.

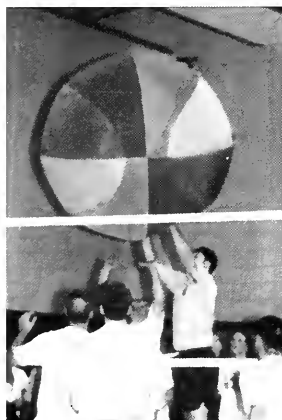

Jennifer Chadwick, Matt Gregory, Lolly Dunlap, Kristina Brown and Brinda Flintoff catch up with Anthony Birdsong in between moving new students into the dorms.

Carrie Krombholz and Amanda Burgess fix flags for Carrie's family group.

Welcome Week '96

Family Group 13 seems to be enjoying their meal.

In the Un-Olympics, anything goes, including giant beach balls.

Susie Wey helps a new student register on the first day of Welcome Week.

Unpacking is probably the worst part of Welcome Week, but with the help of the staff, it is not too bad.

The Un-Olympic cheerleaders attempt to build a pyramid to everyone's amusement, especially their own.

Roger Aldridge is caught eating on the job, while Jeff Shouse helps a new student register.

Archie McPherson and Paul Stevens attack Bill Davis.

Christian Life Conference

Dr. Roy King inspired all of us with his messages during the Christian Life Conference.

Open Dorms

Charlie Conley and Ginger Singleton sit back and watch the antics of Open Dorms.

Marco Perez and Jonathan Reibsam make the most of Open Dorms to look suave and hang out with female friends, like Robin McElwee and Amanda Primm.

Amy Sauder and Kristy Roberts dressed for their parts in Walker's Medieval Castle.

Game of chess anyone?
(Rachelle Lacey)

Pre-game enthusiasm was not enough for the Southern girls, or guys, to triumph over the Northern teams in the Cream of Wheat Bowls.

The "civil war" was well fought by the girls, with both sides having trained for weeks before the game.

Archie McPherson, one of the student referees for the girls' game.

Carrie Krombolz, quarterback for the girls' South team, dodging Northern players in hopes of scoring a touchdown.

Cream of Wheat Bowl

The Southern guys regrouped and fought valiantly, but the defending champions, the North guys, succeeded in keeping their bragging rights.

The guys' game made CIU history as the first game played at night, under the new lights at Ben Lippen. As part of the celebration, an impromptu half-time "band" performed for the crowd, complete with majorettes!

Southerners Sammy Whicker and Gabriel Ricks remained jubilant after playing a good game against the North.

David Michael, Joel Weathers, and Daniel Harms wish everyone at lunch a Merry Christmas, complete with "snow," and were rewarded with a home-cooked meal.

Is Aaron Hill supposed to be a flower, an alien, or a fashion faux-pas?

Ahoy, matey! When it is time for esrever, you never know who might show up. (Charlie Conley, Travis Harvey, Ron Plocinski, and Bob Pedrick)

Roger Aldridge and Craig Tuggy serenade the women of CIU while garbed in Beverly Hillbilly clothing.

Esrever

Taylor, are we in Mexico?

Richard Wilson and Chad White are full of love.

The students of CIU better beware of the Fashion Police. They do hand out citations. (Matt Gregory, Trey Green, and David Michael)

Esnopser

Is this Charlie's Angels or family group #4? (Jennifer Chadwick, Heidi Abramson, Becky Bennetch, and Tina Gotchy)

Tara Bowling sings her way through her esnopser.

Months after TWA Flight 800 exploded in midair in the summer of 1996, investigators were still searching for a cause. The Boeing 747 jumbo jet plunged into the Atlantic ocean off the coast of Long Island, N.Y., just minutes after taking off from Kennedy Airport for Paris. All 230 people on board were killed. The theories ranged from a mechanical failure to a bomb from an exploded fuel tank to a missile.

Shannon Lucid is a new record holder. The 53-year-old shuttle astronaut veteran set the women's record for consecutive days in orbit--188--beating Russian cosmonaut Elena Kondakova. She also amassed 223 days in orbit since 1995, making her America's most experienced astronaut.

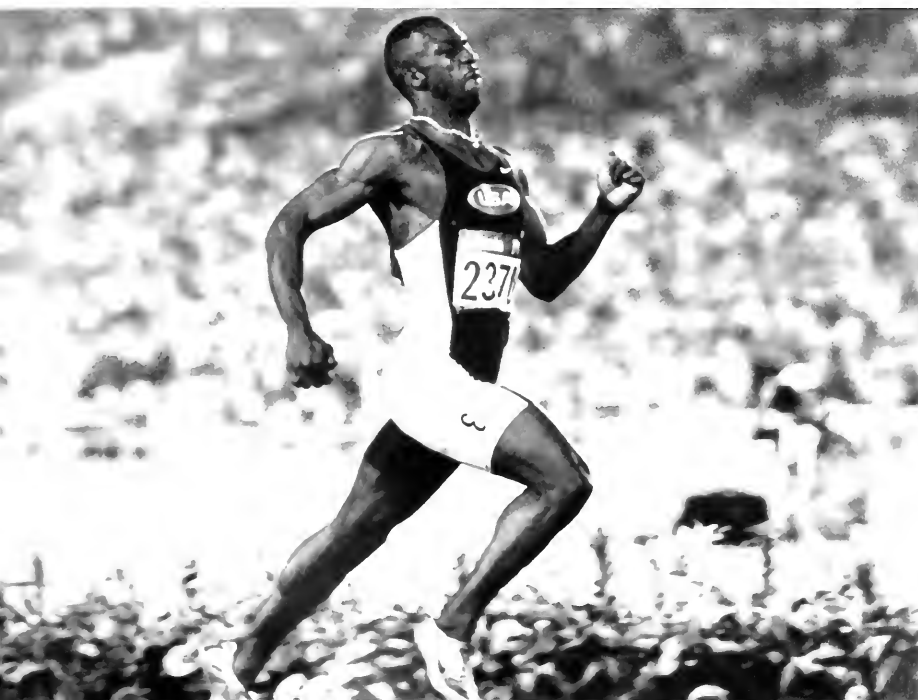

Hong Kong was a British colony on the brink of great change in 1997. Great Britain's lease on Hong Kong was set to expire on July 1, 1997 and the Chinese were poised to reclaim the island. After 100 years of British rule, British administration and jurisdiction over Hong Kong will end and it will become a Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China.

The seven members of the U.S. women's gymnastic team won the unlikely list of the gold medals in the unlikely list of fashions. Team member Kerri Strug made the clinching vault on a bad ankle, and became an Olympic heroine the instant she landed. Her coach, Bela Karolyi, carried her to the stand to be awarded the medal.

Deadly bomb site in Centennial Olympic Park in Atlanta.

Olympic gold medal winner Michael Johnson has what track coaches call speed endurance--the ability to carry top speed. He proved he had endurance-plus. Johnson won an unprecedented double win in the Summer Olympics in Atlanta. He won the 200 and 400 meter races. He was also the overwhelming favorite in the 200, but a case of food poisoning weakened him and he failed to qualify for the final.

Winter Banquet

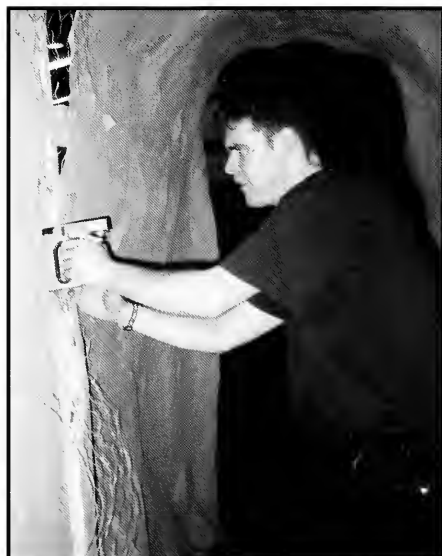

Gallons of paper mache and elbow grease went into creating the right atmosphere.

Betsy Singleton stirs a new batch of glue for the tunnel.

The jungle theme was carried throughout the evening, down to the dessert. Jennifer Palin and Catherine Tutherow scoop sherbert into coconut halves.

Late night sessions full of construction work and frustration were fueled by numerous boxes of pizza.

Richard Wilson became handy with a staple gun while building the tunnel that led into the "jungle," complete with its own waterfall.

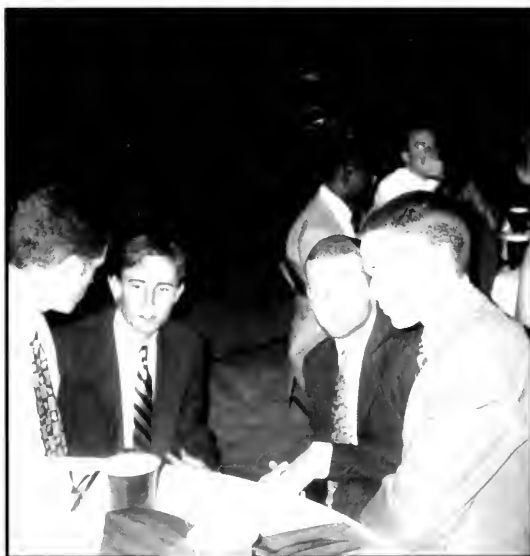

Michelle Kinsey makes her social rounds before the dinner begins, visiting other tables and admiring the man-made "waterfall."

All dressed up with someplace to go: Jennifer Chadwick, Michelle Hess, Amanda Burgess and Heather Waller surround Brinda Flintoff, who went retro to match her date, David Michael.

Elisa Clark and Kristina Brown, dressed as "Indiana Jones," help serve the banquet feast, which was catered by Maurice's Barbecue.

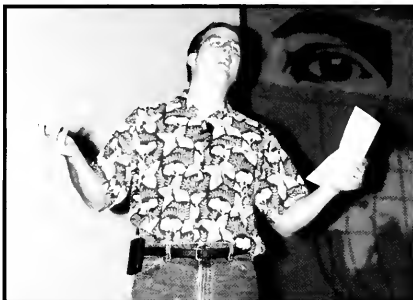

Drew Tilghman discusses the movie "The Dagger of Ehud," which was the entertainment for the evening, with Monte Reitz, Drew Taylor and Mark Merry.

Columbia '97

The featured speaker of the conference was Adrian Dupree. Through his talks, the theme, "Do you know Jesus and does He know you?" was brought to life.

Sacrificing taste buds by trying to win a jalapeno pepper-eating contest was one way kids could win a T-shirt and entertain the audience at the same time.

Family groups allowed for more intimate times of sharing and praying for one another.

The Un-Olympics were held outside this year, which allowed for some messy events, like finding marbles with your feet in a pool of grits.

The icebreaker session is where the "parents" get to meet their "kids" and do some initial family bonding through various games and costumes.

Although the results are worth it, the Columbia Conferences take their toll on those who help out. Sammy Whicker zones out during a lull in the ice breaker games.

The talent show is always a crowd pleaser that draws out both hidden and obvious talents in those who attend. Here, three girls perform a sign language interpretation of a song.

Is it Drew Taylor, drummer for Everybody and Their Brother, or the latest member of DC Talk?

Faith Gragg takes great pleasure in giving "make overs" to the lucky contestants who volunteered, while Troy Krumbholz assists.

One of the highlights of the conference was a concert by CIU's Everybody and Their Brother, as evidenced by these star-struck girls.

Men's Open Dorms

Seth Talbott tests the waters of East 2 to see if more girls were attracted to the "Tunnel of Love" than M3.

In keeping with the carnival theme, Andre Dionne scoops up cotton candy for Rick Swift and his family.

Tom Gregory sits back and waits for the next visitor who desires some espresso and good conversation.

To be a true carnival, there must be games and there were a few at open dorms. Jennifer Buerkert tries her hand at one of them, climbing a suspension ladder.

Memorial 3 had a tattoo parlor in their space-themed hall. Matt Gregory waits for a tattoo to dry on Katie Shull's arm.

East 2 became the "Tunnel of Love" for Open Dorms, complete with their own "loveboat" at the end of the hall.

Josh Burnett and Troy Krombholz were on hand to amuse and entertain the crowd as clowns and balloon artists.

Debbie West tries on Nathan Conrod's snake for size during open dorms.

After testing his taste buds in the Tobasco drinking contest, Ed Jones throws his manners to the wind and drinks straight from the punch bowl to cool his tongue off.

Women's Open Dorms

Ben Lawson helps out Victoria Morgan by handing her markers as they color the night away.

Heather Korb shows Crystal and Travis Harvey what a good hostess she can be, as she lets them have a seat on the bed while she lounges on the couch.

Michelle Strayer can only stare in wonder at Jonathan Reibsamen's new haircut, which made it's debut at Women's open dorms.

Troy Kromholz and Nathan Lawson are on their best behavior in Kelly James' room.

Two solitary individuals play and exciting game of solitaire. It's Donald's move!

Anna Kephart gave mini demonstrations of some of her martial art skills to those who were brave enough to come into the room.

Katie Bland has to wait to use her own phone as Matt Toomey stops in to make a quick call.

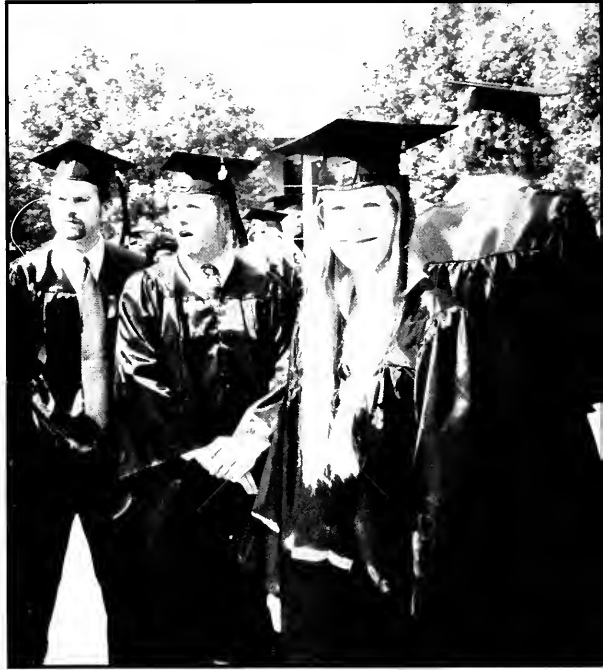

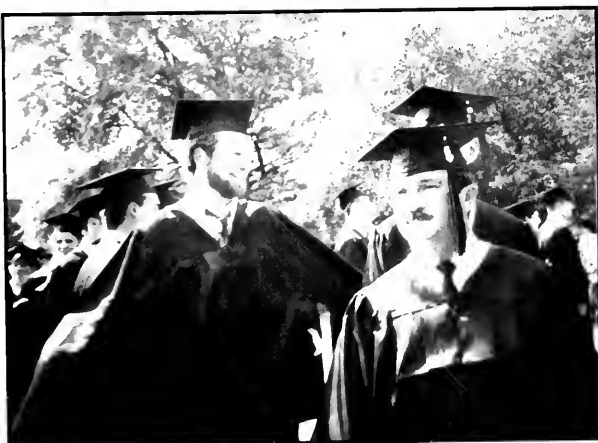

J.J. Thayer and Liz Oates borrow a wheelchair and take it for a spin on Petty One.

Chris Tuggy gets the grand tour from Amanda Primm.
